NORWAY AND VICINITY

Ice went out of Lake Penneesseewassee Wednesday.

The Norway Anchor Lodge, No. 32, I. O. G. T., has had a meeting with the different members this past winter, but for the first time it has met at the vestry of the Methodist church. They meet there again this next week, Monday.

The members of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows—both Subordinate and Rebekah branches, will attend the annual anniversary ceremony of the order at the Methodist Episcopal church by Rev. B. C. Wentworth, on Sunday, April 28th, at 10 o'clock a. m.

Thursday evening, April 25, the Chapman Concert is given at Grange Hall, under the auspices of the Norway High School students. The names of the artists and Prof. Chapman's musical reputation, everything goes to prove an evening of musical enjoyment.

John Wood got a trout while traveling up the lake road the other day. He saw a large fish crowded in among the ice, that acted as if injured. It was a red spot trout, 21 inches long, and belonged to the family known as Racers. The trout was given to Capt. Nash.

Dr. C. L. Buck and H. W. Dennison, president and vice-president of the County Sunday School Association, T. M. Davis, president of the district, all of South Paris, and Dr. L. H. Truitt, vice-president of Norway, visited the Sunday schools at Norway, Sunday.

A variety shower was given Gladys Keene at the home of Maude Mixer on Cottage street, Tuesday evening, by her young lady friends and members of the Sewatika club. It was a complete surprise to Miss Keene, even to the bountiful treat of ice cream, cake, and other goodies. The presents were varied, both ornamental and useful.

Wm. H. Leonard, H. S. '12, gave a sugar party to his class at his home on Orchard street last Friday evening. Twenty-seven were present, including teachers, Miss Baird and Mr. Allen. Billy was assisted in entertaining by his sisters, Mrs. E. W. Hastings and 'Christine. All departed at 11:30, happier than they arrived.

Friday, April 19th, the "Ruby Seal Society" entertained the "Noisy Nine" at the home of Adeline DeCoster. An interesting literary and musical program was followed by a number of lively games, which were greatly enjoyed by all. At six o'clock was served a delicious supper, to which each member of the R. S. S. had contributed a share. A Bible beautifully bound in Morocco leather was presented by the "Noisy Nines" as a token of appreciation to the members of the R. S. S. The "Ruby Seal Society" was organized by a number of sixth grade girls during the fall term of 1911. The "Noisy Nine" was recently organized by nine sixth grade boys.

Last Sunday Rev. Merrill C. Ward preached on the theme, "Despite calamities is this a good world?" The text was Psalm 90:3, "Thou turnest man to ruin, and sayest, return ye to dust." He spoke of some of the great world tragedies, the California earthquake, Mount Pelee, Lisbon, and the Titanic tragedy. The world is good, he maintained in that—1. These tragedies are the exceptional and accidental things while the general order and play of nature is beneficent. 2. This accident was due to man's carelessness and lessons are to be learned from it which man need not heed from lesser accidents. 3. Death is not an evil to those who die. 4. These events bring out a glory in human nature. 5. Its heroisms show that there must be a great God to have given such divine character to man. There is that in man which is greater than anything that can happen to him. 6. Suffering develops the finest qualities of character. 7. Human tenderness and sympathy and helpfulness is developed by such trials. 8. Great needs lead souls to prayer and to the knowledge and help of God.

Chapman Concert.

Mr. Chapman has promised a popular program and also that all of the songs shall be sung in English, and as for the Irish songs sung by Mr. Wells, these are well worth the price of the tickets alone. Now these artists that Mr. Chapman presents at this concert are of the very highest order. Mr. Chapman states that this program is the only one that he can remember that after every number the public have demanded an encore. Don't fail to hear this concert, for Mr. Chapman has promised the entire receipts for the benefit of the Norway High school. If it is not the brilliant that he has given in our town, so you can know what to expect. All tickets are 50c.

APRIL 26, 1912, NORWAY, MAINE.

VOLUME XLIII.

N. H. S. 24: Mechanic Falls H. S. 1

Norway High School met and defeated Mechanic Falls High School at the Fair Grounds, Saturday, April 20. This was Norway's first game and the prospects are good for a strong High School nine this year.

It was a walk over for Norway from start to finish, but although Mechanic Falls was playing a losing game there were no hard feelings between the teams or any kicking at decisions whatever. This is commendable in the Mechanic Falls boys and we hope that Norway may show an equally good spirit if they ever have to play a losing game under similar conditions. The next game is to be played with Bliss Business College, next Saturday, at Norway. A good game is guaranteed by those in charge and we shall look for the support of the people.

SOUTH WATERFORD.

Bear Mountain Grange.

Bear Mountain Grange had an all day meeting Saturday, with dinner at noon recess.

It was voted to approve the resolutions of the Maine State Grange endorsing the Gardner Bill for a postal express service by the postoffice department in conjunction with the postal service and rural delivery, and that the petition submitted by the State Grange be signed by the legal voters in the Grange. Brother Fernald was appointed a committee to circulate said petition among the farmers and citizens generally for signatures. Voted to accept the invitation of Sweden Grange to a fraternal reception on Saturday, April 27.

The afternoon entertainment was as follows: Song, by choir; humorous recitation, John Muller, recited by Bros. Decker and C. S. Hamlin, Saunders and Miller. The consensus of opinion was that the boys and girls should be taught to work and be useful on the farm, but that the child should be directed in a choice of a life pursuit indicated by its natural taste or bent of mind.

Brother Sias spoke interestingly on the subject and introduced the popular social organization, the Boy Scouts, and intimated his desire of forming such a society here. He expressed his belief in the good influence of a friendly order of social clubs for the youth of a town or community to promote the moral and intellectual development of its members.

The observance of Patriots' day being a part of the exercises, Edith Mett gave a reading of Paul Rovere's Rite, a fine old march of Revolutionary times was played by Bro. French, violin, accompanied by Sister Charlotte Morse, pianist, and for encore gave an ancient dancing tune after which Bro. Decker read a sketch of the incidents which precipitated the War of Independence, and of the Battle of Lexington, the first of the great seven years conflict with Great Britain and her American colonies.

The Proper Course

Information of Priceless Value to Every

Normal Citizen

How to act in an emergency is knowledge of inestimable worth, and this is particularly true of the diseases and ills of the human body. If you suffer with backache, urinary disorders or any form of kidney trouble, the advice contained in the following statement will add a valuable asset to your store of knowledge. What could be more convincing proof of the efficiency of Doan's Kidney Pills than the statements of nearby residents who have been permanently cured?

Mrs. S. F. Harlow, Skillings Avenue, South Paris, Me., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills at different times and I have always found them to be a good kidney remedy. I was in poor health some time ago and felt that my kidneys needed a tonic. I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and after I had taken a few doses I received relief."

(Statement given July 25, 1908)

RE-ENDORSEMENT

On July 19, 1911, Mrs. Harlow was interviewed and she said: "I am glad to confirm the statement I gave three years ago, recommending Doan's Kidney Pills. I still use them frequently, and they keep my kidneys in a normal condition."

My Mother's Love.

Written for the Advertiser.

BY LILLIAN A. BARTLETT.

I was sitting by my window. One lovely summer day. The birds were sweetly singing. The sun was shining far away. Back to happy days of old. And a mother's loving care. I can see her now, God bless her. With the silver in her hair.

Years ago my mother left me for that unknown world above. But her kind and tender love. With such loving sympathy. On the lessons that she taught me. There's nothing in this world. Like my mother's love for me. Sweethearts they are so jolly. And it's nice to have them, too. But there's no one like a mother. She is always good and true. Tho' your friends may have left you. And tho' you're in disgrace. Your mother will forgive you. With a smile upon her face. Mechanic Falls, Maine.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the cause of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. It is the only cure that has no harmful effects. It is so simple in its use, and so powerful in its action, that it is a cure for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Bald Heads not Wanted.

Baldness is too generally considered a Sign of Advanced Age.

A bald-headed person does not have an equal chance with one blessed with a head of hair, because baldness is too generally accepted as an indication of age. Many large corporations have established an age limit, and refuse to take men over 35 years of age as new employees.

Probably 65 per cent. of bald-headed people may regain a good head of healthy hair if they follow our advice and accept our offer. We have a remedy that we positively guarantee to grow hair in any head, unless the roots of the hair are entirely dead. Our follicles are closed, and the scalp has become glazed and shiny. We want people to try this remedy at our risk, with the distinct understanding that unless it does exactly what we claim it will, and gives satisfaction in every respect, we will make no charge for the remedy used during the trial.

We know exactly what we are talking about, and with this in back of our statements no one should scoff, doubt or ward off our efforts to put our remedy to an actual test.

We want every one in Norway who is suffering from any scalp or hair trouble, dandruff, falling hair, or baldness to try our "Rexall" Hair Tonic. We want them to use it regularly until three bottles have been used—and if it does not eradicate dandruff, cleanse and refresh the scalp, tighten the hair in its roots, and grow new hair, we will return every cent paid for the remedy for the mere asking. And we exact no obligation to the user whatever.

We are established right here in Norway, and make this offer with a full understanding that our success entirely depends upon the honest success we accord our customers, and we would not dare make the above offer unless we were positively certain that we could substantiate it in every particular.

Dear Editor—I am going to tell you some of my fun this winter.

I have been skiing about every day this winter and I have had a great time. I can go pretty good now. Some of the time papa went with me.

East Stoneham, Maine, April 7, 1912.

As I saw so many letters in the paper this week I thought I would write one. I am a little girl seven years old. I have been sick but am so to go out now. I have two cousins, girls, that live near and we play together with our dolls. I got a large one at Christmas.

We have 13 hens and two ducks, one cow and one horse. Charles's name is Charlie. I have a cat that is just the same age of me. His name is Tom. I have got nine trees tapped and I enjoy tending them.

I go to school. I take four studies. I will close for this time hoping to see this in print as my first letter.

Yours Truly, MARGUERITE ALICE CHAPLIN.

Bethel, April 8, 1912.

Dear Editor—I am pleased with the letters in the Children's Column last week. I will send my Easter song which I sing in the tune of, I Want to Be an Angel.

"I want to follow Jesus," said little Elsie Lee "Like James and John and Peter, beside the rippling sea."

So, in a quiet corner she knelt to humbly pray, "Dear God, kindly show me the first step in the way."

She seemed to hear a whisper from One she could not see, "The first step, little Elsie, 'tis only come to me. Believe that I will save you and take your sins away."

Be willing I should lead you and keep you every day. "The next steps? You will find them; they come as moments do—The calls for gentle patience, and efforts kind and true; Forgetting self for others, Love's Golden Rule."

My word will show my footprints; begin, dear child today. BEATRICE ELLEN KIMBALL. Age 9.

Apple Plays.

A generation or two ago, when children had not so many toys as they have nowadays, they had good times playing with flowers, apples and berries.

One of the best of these was a game called "Apple Polka" which was played by the boys and girls who read this page, and they may like to try them on Thanksgiving Day.

"Sometimes we sewed with a strong thread all around the apples just under the skin, putting the needle into the same hole it came out of each time, and having the two ends of the thread hang out of the last hole; then we held the ends together and pulled very hard till the thread came out; this out the apple in two under the skin, and we would give it to some one to eat; and when the apple was pared it fell apart, and was a fine surprise—surprise apples we called them."

"Sometimes we took small apples and stuck them very full of cloves, and they made nice spicy-smelling balls to put in our drawers, but they were not good to eat. We liked better to make what we called cider apples; we would each take a big green apple and go out of doors and pound the apple against the side of the house, and then we would all go and being careful not to break the skin. When the apple was just as soft as could be we made a small hole in it, and could suck out all the apple but a little about the core."

"Then we generally ate some of the core too, and if the seeds were nice fat ones we dried them and played with them. We sewed the seeds edgewise on cards for mice, making the tails and ears with fine brown cotton; sometimes we put on the card a tiny little bag stuffed with seed to look like meal and had the apple-seed mice gathered about it and some of them going up on the bag."

"Now and then before eating an apple we used to wish, and then guess the number of seeds, and the one who guessed exactly, we used to say, would get the wish. We strung apple-seeds by the small ends with a needle and thread and made fine necklaces for our dolls—at least my sister and I did, but my brother called that 'guilty play'; but he used to play some counting-games with us, with the seeds. I am sorry I have forgotten what they were."

Winter Trip to Moosehead Lake.

Literary Indians, Sociable Hens, Wild Geese Flight, Deer Yards, An Inquiry and Answer, Description of Fishing Through the Ice, etc.

Indian Newell Miles of the Passamaquoddy tribe of braves, lives in the guides' camp. He smokes his pipe and plays a plaintive, mournful tune on a flute. The Bangor Weekly Commercial comes to him and he reads and comments on the news. For books of reference he has a pocket dictionary and a 1910 Sears, Roebuck & Co. catalogue, and with magazines and story books he passes his leisure moments, when not engaged in doing chores, cutting and hauling wood and "going out to the road" for mail and supplies.

The postoffice, which is a box on a stump by the side of Lily Bay stage road, and is admitted to be 2 1/2 miles distant, but Newell contents his right round three miles as it takes him 45 minutes to make it when he "stretches 'em out and go light." The mail was got once a week anyway, and many times oftener.

The hens are tame and have no fear of bodily harm. Warm days they are allowed to travel at will in the rear of the camps. You must use care or you'll step on them. They crowd around you, getting on your snow-shoes and pick your clothing, talking to each other and singing all the while. Even the dog, "Harrietta," and "Tom," the cat, turn out when they meet in the trail. The biddies and the big rooster, never—but the little roosters take to the woods—and into the snow when the big father of the flock comes round. Occasionally there is a battle and the presumptuous bird, bleeding and battered, is taken into the kitchen, his wounds are doctored and he is tenderly nursed.

A flock of 13 wild geese passed up the Tirofane, March 27, headed toward Labrador or some other place. Another flock of maybe 40 was seen late in the afternoon of March 31st. These were apparently planning to light on the ice as they were flying low and in broken ranks and several geese were traveling in the rear. On seeing us they did much knocking and scolding and rose higher in the air and headed towards Spencer Bay. We watched them out of sight, wondering where they would stop to rest.

Several years ago a flock of geese stopped over night on the ice near Greenleaf's Camps. What becomes of the deer winters is often asked by the summer sport. The laconic answer of the guide is "the deer yard." What this means is not readily understood by the city visitor and a description of the deer yard is undertaken by the guide. We've listened to it many a time and supposed in these yards there must be water and a fair amount of shelter and browse on which the deer could feed. The latter is true but water is not necessary.

We visited several deer yards—two on the island and one on mainland. In the two first there were three deer in each yard. The bucks and does are said to yard separately. The first one visited was pronounced by the Doctor to be inhabited by does and the other by bucks. The yards were about a mile apart and a hardwood ridge intervening. The yard at Mud Pond might have contained 30 deer or twice that number or half that number as far as we could tell. The tracks were numerous and paths well trod. We did not hunt for their sleeping grounds which usually indicates the number in the herd.

Deer in winter gather in swamp or low lands that is covered with low cedars, fir, hemlock and the like. They travel from thicket to thicket, feeding on the low branches. The snow is beaten down and there are well trodden paths out of which they seldom go unless disturbed. As the snow increases it enables them to feed higher up on the trees. When the water is frozen up they eat snow. When disturbed they make desperate plunges in the snow and the whole herd follow in the trail and it's said they take turns in breaking the way. This was evidently done by the three we drove out. They made a circle on the ridge and back into yard, being driven by the Doctor while we remained in the yard to see them on their return. If the snow is deep and there is a light crust to cut their legs, they soon give up and allow themselves to be roped or killed.

As there has been plenty of snow and no crust, the deer are said to have wintered well this season and are in good condition.

While on the island we received a letter from the outer world, asking what we were doing. The question might be construed as impertinent and interfering with personal rights and privileges guaranteed by the Constitution, however, we are willing to answer.

We are doing nothing much, whatever that may be. Eleven hours out of the twenty-four are passed in sleep and the balance of the time in eating, drinking, fishing, gum picking and visiting. Neighbors are not numerous or handy; the nearest one is four miles away, and up to now few callers other than wild animals have come to this island.

Since March 12th the fish have not bit to amount to anything. We are fishing some each day when the weather permits. Always expected to get a fish but only two have been taken in the past 25 days—cusk do not count.

Possibly you'd like to know how this winter fishing is done. First cut a hole through the ice the depth of which varies according to location. In the Thorofare for 16 to 20 inches; at the Point opposite Dunn's 26 to 30 inches and about the same at Lake Point, Rowell Cove and Gravel Island.

The first 10 inches is usually cut with an ax and rest of the way driven through with chisel made for the purpose. Be sure and trim out the edges of the ice at the bottom of the hole leaving no ragged edges. Cut larger holes—12 to 14 inches square—occasionally you get a big fish and it's awkward to hold a fish on a line with one hand and cut the hole with the chisel. You are liable to cut off your line and lose the fish and when you've worked steadily 40 hours for a fish you don't want to part with him that way.

Cut big holes at the start and keep 'em big. Look out and not tumble into them and get drowned. We've got less than 50 such holes we are working. Don't think that number of lines are set. It would be a most sinful violation of Sec. 1, ch. 82 R. S., which allows only 5 set lines for each family. We can legally keep 10 lines in the water in the daytime and in the night for cusk, can't say how many lines you can legally use. To get cusk you must drop a bait on the bottom and let it set for 10 minutes. A cusk will show its nose kind of a cross between an eel, bullhead and cat-fish. They are a good table fish but owing to their nocturnal habit of biting and not being game, they are unpopular with sportsmen.

It fills a World Need

The Liberty-Brush is a time-saver and a money-maker for every man whose business success depends on quick, certain and regular transportation from place to place.

The T. G. Northwall Company
Omaha, Neb.

Gentlemen:

You will probably be interested to know of the performance of the Brush Runabout which I have been using for the last six months, on my route out of this town. My daily trip consists of a little over 26 miles, about half level and half hilly.

Herewith is the average expense per week:

Gas, 7 1/2 gals. @ 14c	$1.05
Cylinder oil 1 qt. @ 15c	.15
Transmission grease, 3 lbs. @ 10c.	.30
Total	$1.50

When I covered this same road with horse, the average cost was $5.00 per week for feed, and at the same time it took the greater part of the day to cover the distance. With my Brush Runabout however, I make the run in from two and one-half to three hours, reaching home for mid-day dinner and have the afternoon for other work. I am thus able to do business in the afternoons which pays me much better than spending my time on the country roads.

I think there is no better machine on the market than the BRUSH for the R.F.D. Service, principally because they operate at such a minor expense. I have driven over 6,000 miles.

Yours very truly,
Oehmig Lillie.

The Standard Brush Runabout $450. All prices, F. O. E. Detroit

F. B. FOCC, Agent,

Mr. Lillie's experience is one of hundreds of similar tributes to the efficiency of the Liberty-Brush.

Its small cost—$350—and its remarkably low maintenance expense—a cent a mile for two passengers—make it the ideal car for men of average income.

Mechanically perfect, the Liberty-Brush contains every feature—on its smaller scale—of large and high priced automobiles. Selective transmission, shock absorbers under Truffault-Hartford Patent, double side chain drive and the single cylinder motor so highly favored in Europe, are some of the features.

Let us demonstrate its usefulness to you.

AMERICAN LAW is a horse of great substance and high finish; a fast, pure gaited, game trotter. He is a type of a high class gentleman's driver, viz: good color, the right conformation, action and speed, combined. That he has the ability to transmit these qualities is shown in his list. He has to his credit American (Chimes 2:14 1/4, Attorney-at-Law 2:18 3/4, American Blossom 2:19 1/4, Mamiee 2:24, and these from mares of no particular individual breeding.

We feel justified in saying that AMERICAN LAW mated with well bred mares, will be the equal of any horse in the State as a sire of extreme speed; and we invite the breeders of Oxford County to visit Mountain View Farm and know about American LAW.

As a Spring Medicine Hood's is King

"For all the troubles I have had Hood's Sarsaparilla surely is the king. I have taken it at different times in the past three years when I have suffered from catarrh and stomach troubles, and have always found it a grand medicine. My stomach is very much better than it was, and as a spring medicine, too, I know that no one can do any better than to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. My husband and I have reason to recommend it cordially." Mrs. R. E. Plummer, 387 Union Ave., Laconia, N. H.

NORTH NORWAY.

James Knox French died of heart failure at his home, Thursday, April 19th, at 5 o'clock p. m., aged 67 years. He was born in Boston, Nov. 10, 1844, the son of John and Anne French. He had lived in Norway since he was 12 years of age. He was a farmer and store-keeper. He had been postmaster 17 years; also justice of the peace. Politically he was a democrat. He married Ida E. Hayes, March 3, 1878. He is survived by two brothers and one sister, John H. French of Jamaica Plain, Mass., George French and Isabella A. Hussey, both of Norway. Mr. French was a quiet, unassuming man and always ready to do a kindness when possible to any that needed.

The funeral was at his late home, Monday, April 22, Rev. Merrill C. Ward being the attending clergyman. The bearers were E. A. Cox, Amos Foster, Charles Foster and Will Symonds. He was buried in the cemetery near the chapel by the side of his wife, who died Oct. 27, 1878.

There were flowers from I. A. Cox, M. A. Haskell, I. J. Judkins, Fannie Cox, Betsey Herick, Mary Manning, Kate Hobbs and Arthur Herick, and 87 pinks from Augusta, Eugene and Will French.

KRYPTOKS

Two Visions in a One-Piece Lens

There are two classes of people to whom this question is of vital interest. Do you belong to either?

The first are those who can read comfortably with their present glasses but are plunged into a hazy, indefinite world when viewing distant objects. They may be stumbling along the street to their personal discomfort, recognizing their friends with difficulty, if at all, and subjecting their eyes to a constant strain.

The second class consists of those who are trying unsatisfactorily to remedy just such conditions. Perhaps they are encumbered with two separate pairs of glasses of different "strength"—one for reading, another for distant vision. Or they may have resorted to the old type of bifocal glasses with their cemented lenses or separate segments in one frame, either possessing those ever present dividing lines which are a disfigurement and an annoyance to the wearer.

If you belong to either of these classes, here are some reasons why you should look into this question of Kryptoks at once:

Because they give you the two visions you require in one pair of glasses.

Because they are to all practical purposes single, solid lenses.

Because they are as graceful on the face as any pair of single vision eye glasses.

Because they are on more liable to breakage than the ordinary single focus lenses.

These reasons in themselves answer the question "why" conclusively. A second question immediately suggests itself—how? By what magic means have these long sought results been realized?

The answer is simple, after all, for magic means are nothing more than scientific means. A Kryptok lens is made of two pieces of glass of different substance and foci fused into a single piece of glass and ground as a single lens. The result is the highest step yet attained in the evolution because they improve the soil, whether it is poor or good. The poor soil is supplied with substances it lacks, while the good is maintained and improved. The analysis of Swift's Fertilizers is based upon organic substances of animal origin—Bone, Blood, Meat. These are the greatest of all plant foods because they supply what nature demands to grow a big crop and carry it to maturity. They stay by the crop until it is harvested.

SWIFT'S LOWELL ANIMAL FERTILIZERS

"I am pleased to report to you that on 1 1/2 acres I harvested 250 bushels of ears, and consider it the best paying corn crop I ever raised. I used 700 lbs. of Swift's Lowell Animal Brand in connection with a light dressing of barnyard manure. This made a combination that proved entirely satisfactory to me."
—W. R. UNDERHILL, Ashby, Mass.

"Having used your fertilizer for a number of years, I wish to state that I raised in one acre 400 bushels of Potatoes, all marketable. Your fertilizers have always been fine and dry."
—C. F. SARRIN, Fryeburg, Me.

You can use them with or without manure; they are made for any soil and all crops. Ask our local agent or write direct to us for our book of valuable information.

Aunt Sally Gammon's Cherry Tree.

At the time of the freshet in '09 a solitary cherry tree stood on the bank of the Swift river in Roxbury.
In that tree, at the age of 76, Aunt Sally Gammon hung down seven o'clock in the evening until midnight, with houses and bridges drifting past her, logs thumping her tree and the water up to her neck.

I will write the story as Aunt Sally told it at the age of 92.
"The freshet came on us almost without warning," she said. "We saw the water was rising fast and overflowing the intervals, but had no idea it would flood our house. About six o'clock I went out to milk and waded in the water up to my ankles to the barn. They tried to keep me from doing it, but I knew that cow ought to be milked. Bridges were going by then. All at once the water poured in our doors and windows and I concluded I was to be drowned. My husband was down in the corn field and I thought he would be drowned too. Some river-drivers carried him up on a bank and came after me. When they had carried me as far as that cherry tree, they could get me no further, but had to swim for their lives. They left me there in that tree, with my hands clasped around a limb.
"I hung there from seven o'clock in the evening until midnight. The water rose to the neckband of my dress. I thought I was going to die and was all prepared. With one hand I took off my spectacles and put them in my pocket, thinking my children would like to have them to remember me by, and if I kept them on, they would be lost. I sung hymns and prayed. If the water had risen six inches more, it would have drowned me, but it didn't. One big log lodged crosswise against the tree and protected me from the drift stuff that would have thumped me to death. At midnight I was rescued. My hands were swollen so I could not loosen them from the tree without assistance.
At the time this happened, Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper portrayed Aunt Sally hanging on a cherry tree amidst the flood. The artist drew on his imagination for her dress and features, and failed to do her justice, Aunt Sally said.

"I didn't care a snap about the homely picture but I never wore heeled boots in my life."
When asked about what it was like, Aunt Sally laughed and replied: "They used to play on my husband by telling that he said: 'I wouldn't be grudge five dollars to know where my wife is and I'd give ten to know where the old sow is!' But he was so excited he did not know what he was saying."
Aunt Sally said Gammon was the most noted man on Swift river, in his day. He was Aunt Sally's husband and was born the same day she was. He was full of individuality and famed for his original utterances.
Uncle Gammon always paid his bills, but was slow. He used to buy his flour of Henry Parks at Mexico Corner and promise to pay in a few days. This meant about eighteen months. One day he walked into the store and said, "Mr. Parks, I want a barrel of flour. I'll pay you in a few days."
Mr. Parks happened to feel rather cross. He spoke up sharply and a number of people in the store heard him.
"Uncle Gammon," said he, "you're always talking about paying in a few days. Now, I would like to know what you call a few days?"
"Mr. Parks," responded Uncle Gammon in his piping voice, "a man's life is but a few days and full of trouble."

BUCKFIELD.
Albert Hersey is home from New York.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.
There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, brick-dust or sediment in the urine, head ache, back ache, lame back, dizziness, sleeplessness, nervousness, or the kidneys will break down and waste away cell by cell.
Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and better health in that organ is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. Swamp-Root corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the night, and to get up many times during the day. The mild and immediate remedy is soon realized. It is the highest because of its remarkable health restoring properties. A trial will convince anyone. Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Be careful of any cheap imitations. The name, Swamp-Root, and don't let a dealer sell you something in place of Swamp-Root—if you do you will be disappointed.

Suffered Ten Years—Relieved in Three Months Thanks to PERUNA.
C. B. FIZER, M.D. Sterling, Ky., says: "I have suffered with kidney and bladder trouble for ten years past."
"Last March I commenced using Peruna and continued for three months. I have not used it since, nor have I felt a pain."

SUNDAY RIVER.
Our river drivers are busy at work, trying to get out the old logs as well as the new.
Glady Trask of West Paris, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Paul Parker, returned home Monday, accompanied by Elmer Bean. He will spend a week there.
A number attended the sugar party and dance at Newry Corner. All report a very nice time. The sugar was pronounced A. No. 1. Leslie Davis had charge of it.
Bessie Plummer, one of our highly respected young ladies, was married, Thursday, to James Reynolds, and took the train for Nova Scotia. Our best wishes accompany them.
Thursday was observed as Children's day at Bear River Grange. A very pleasant afternoon was spent. Refreshments were served. Much praise may be given to the little ones in their work.

PUTS END TO BAD HABIT.
Things never look bright to one with "the blues." Ten to one the trouble is a sluggish liver, filling the system with bilious poison, that Dr. King's New Life Pills would cure. Try them. Get the joy of better feelings and "the blues." Best for stomach, liver and kidneys. 25c at the Noyes Drug Store. 14-17.

SOUTH WATERFORD.
Smiths are running in the brooks.
Mrs. Charles Kimball, who has been critically ill for some time, is somewhat improved.

Lovely Hair for Girls and Boys.
The man who is bald at 30 can usually blame his mother.
It is a mother's duty to look after her children's hair; to be sure that a dressing is used that will destroy the microbes of disease, will banish dandruff and promote a growth of hair.
Mothers who use PARISIAN SAGE need never worry about having bald-headed sons at 30 or girls with faded coarse looking hair at any age.
For Frank Kimball, proprietor of the Noyes Drug Store, knows PARISIAN SAGE so well that he guarantees it to banish dandruff, to stop itching scalp and falling hair, or money back.
And children as well as their parents love to use PARISIAN SAGE, for it is so refined and pleasant and makes the head feel fine instantly. 60 cents. 17-19

Maine Auto Regulations.
Facts for automobile users are set forth in a booklet that has been issued by the Maine Automobile Association. This association is affiliated with the A. A. A. The annual registration fee for cars of 20 horse power or under will be $5; cars 20 to 35 horse power, $10; cars over 35 horse power, $15; motor trucks, power, $10; motor cycles, $5; manufacturers and dealers, $25.
M. Standard. The year begins January 1st and ends December 31st. Cars registered between October 1st and December 31st of any year, half regular fee.
An operator's license will cost $2. All licenses issued previous to January 1, 1912, are void.
If a car is exchanged for one of higher power the difference in the fee must be paid to the secretary of state and when a car is sold the secretary of state must be notified to whom it is sold.
Non-residents are allowed 30 days in the state without registering their cars, providing the operator is licensed and the car is registered in another state and the number plates are displayed. If they remain longer they are required to pay the same fees as residents. Any non-resident desiring information should apply to the secretary of state at Augusta.
For the benefit of the speed "bug," as well as those who do not care to emulate an express train in full action, the booklet states that 25 miles an hour is allowed in the open country. In built up of city, town or village, however, 10 miles, but the speed must never be "reasonable and safe," having due regard for the traffic and use of the road by others. When passing a team a car must stop if occupant raised hand.
Persons under the influence of intoxicating liquor operating a motor car, or using such a conveyance without the authority of its owner, or racing for a wager or record without authority are subject to a fine or imprisonment or both. On conviction the license of such a person is immediately revoked.
Automobiles Go Slow! sign should be read to mean five miles an hour.

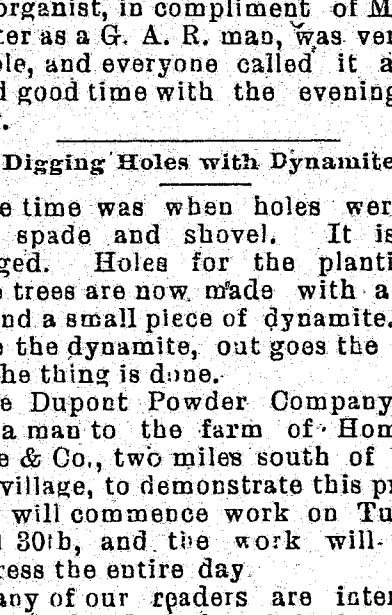

NORTH LOVELL.

Mrs. Seth Harriman is not so well. Alvah Gammon remains about the same.
Mrs. Emma Wilson called on Mrs. Abbie McKee, recently.
Mr. and Mrs. G. P. McAllister were guests at Edgar McAllister's, Sunday.
Howard and Theodore Allen of West Stoneham spent the day with Theodore McAllister, recently.
Mr. and Mrs. Willis Warren went to Biddeford to visit his mother, Mrs. Warren Johnson, Sunday.
Ira Harriman of East Stoneham has visited his mother, Mrs. Mary Harriman. Anne Flint and friend have returned to Paris.

The Grange meeting, April 17th, was well attended, considering the traveling. The literary program was very good, especially the song by Mrs. Lucy Adams, piano, duet, "Ina Hiltion" and Annie Wildberger and the song by Ina Hiltion and Lucy Adams. There is very gratifying interest in the Grange work.
The reception given by the Grange to their Chaplin, S. C. McAllister, in honor of his birthday, was a very pleasant occasion. It was an entire surprise to him but was none the less enjoyed and appreciated. He received some very pretty and useful gifts, among them a handsome cake. Refreshments of popped corn, candy and several kinds of cake, were served. The stirring music of "Marching through Georgia" and "Rally Round the Flag, Boys" by Mrs. Ina Hiltion, organist, in compliment of Mr. McAllister as a G. A. R. man, was very enjoyable, and everyone called it an all-around good time with the evening well spent.

Digging Holes with Dynamite.
The time was when holes were dug with spade and shovel. It is now changed. Holes for the planting of apple trees are now made with an iron bar and a small piece of dynamite. Explode the dynamite, out goes the earth, and the thing is done.
The Dupont Powder Company will send a man to the farm of Homer N. Chase & Co., two miles south of Buckfield village, to demonstrate this process. They will commence work on Tuesday, April 30th, and the work will be in progress the entire day.
If any of our readers are interested, call around and see how it is done. Mr. Chase extends this invitation.

Stomach Troubles Relieved.

Those people who suffer with the distressing symptoms attending chronic dyspepsia will be interested to read the following voluntary testimony:
"I have kept the L. F. Atwood's bitters in the house for over twenty years and have received great benefit from them. It does seem as though I could not keep house without them. In the past I have had a very bad stomach trouble, and could hardly do any work. After taking a few bottles of the true L. F. Atwood's Medicine, I became much better. My niece has also been greatly benefited by them. We both are willing to recommend the medicine to all who need a remedy for dyspepsia and constipation."
